

Triple cheer for TARC student

THREE'S a crowd but not when it comes to awards.

Tunku Abdul Rahman College (TARC) Advanced Diploma in Technology (Building) graduating student Chat Soon Qian was presented with a trio of awards at the recent TARC convocation ceremony held at the College Hall of the main campus in Kuala Lumpur.

The awards were the Professor Chin Fung Kee Memorial Prize, Chartered Institute of Building (CIOB) Certificate of Excellence and CIOB Malaysia Book prize.

A beaming Chat attributed her achievements to intensive group work, discussions and the guidance of her lecturers and tutors.

Another student in the limelight was Chin Sook Kuan, who graduated with Distinction in the Advanced Diploma in Business Studies (Marketing).

The marketing executive in Shah Alam said that her lecturers' encouragement motivated her to work harder and to excel.

She quipped, "Of course, I also revised constantly and completed all my assignments."

Some 870 graduating students in Advanced

Diplomas for various programmes in Technology, Business Studies, Science and Mass Communications received their scrolls in the convocation this year, which coincided with the college's 40th Anniversary.

There was also the presentation of two other prestigious awards — The Association of Chartered Certified Accountants Perpetual Cup to Kuan Huey Ling (represented by her brother) and The Malaysian Institute of Chartered Secretaries and Administrators Perpetual Cup to Yeoh Zi Cheng.

Chat Soon Qian (second from left), flanked by TARC principal Tan Chik Heok (right), Council Member Tan Sri Lau Yin Pin (third from left) and Head of School of Technology Chua Ping Yong.